

COMMERCIAL CLASS FINISHES ITS WORK

Interesting Exercises at the High School Mark the Graduation of the Business Students.

A S A PROOF of the interest that is taken in the commercial department of the high school, the hall at the West Side high school building was so crowded at the graduation exercises last night that a great many were turned away. Thirty-two were in the class that graduated, and the entire programme went off without a hitch.

E. W. Wilson, cashier of the Commercial National bank, a former president of the Board of Education, was present, and delivered an address that was very much to the point. In it he drew attention to the necessity for equipping young people with commercial knowledge and ability, as these were always of value, and more often an absolute need. He congratulated the graduates on the benefits they had acquired from their course, and gave them some sound advice as to the best way in which they might put them to practical use. They would meet with many obstacles, but if they went about meeting them in the right spirit and with proper discretion they would also meet with many successes, which would be of so much more value in accordance with the obstacles overcome.

Preceding the address of Mr. Wilson and opening the evening's entertainment was a piano solo by Miss Florence Arbuckle. This was very brightly played, and showed, as did all the musical numbers, great care in preparation, and met with great applause from the large audience. Anna Edwards gave a recitation, and a vocal solo was rendered by Howard Harold.

Prof. George A. Eaton, principal of the high school, delivered an effective speech, accepting in the name of the high school a handsome picture of President Lincoln, which the graduating class had presented to the school. While congratulating the graduates on their success, Mr. Eaton urged that as many of them as could do so should return to the high school and take a course of two years more in general education. Half of them had obtained positions, but while the commercial education they had obtained was of great value they would regret it if they missed having something besides in the way of a liberal education. He also gave a review of the affairs that had led to the establishment of the commercial department as a separate class, and spoke of the necessity that had led to this.

Members of the class sang a double quartette, and Ada Thomas, president of the class, delivered an address, which was received with fervent applause. A recitation by Clara Foulger was also very successful.

Superintendent D. H. Christensen concluded the evening's ceremonies by presenting the certificates to the graduates. He delivered a very neat presentation speech, in the course of which he gave a brief outline of the history and development of the commercial class as a distinct department of the high school. This was the third year of its existence as such, although commercial subjects had been taught in the other courses previous to that. In referring to the great success achieved by the graduates, he said that the school had paid tribute to the teachers who had had exclusive charge of the department, the principal, William A. McKay in particular. At the end of the evening cheering cheers were heard for several blocks in honor of Mr. Eaton, Superintendent Christensen and the teachers.

BIG RENT FOR BOOTBLACK STAND

Business Men Charge $25 a Month for the Privilege of Occupying a Place on Public Street.

BEFORE the Streets committee of the City Council the startling development was made last night that M. H. Walker and the Smith Drug company have been charging the owners of the bootblack stand $25 per month for the privilege of maintaining their little open place of business upon one of the public thoroughfares of Salt Lake City. The owners of the stand which used to be one Second South street up against the south wall of the Smith drug store building are James Pappas and Theodore Bockos. Before the members of the Streets committee it was stated by one of the men last night that they had been paying the above named man or firm the sum of $25 a month as rent for the privilege of placing their stand upon the city's sidewalk.

The Council recently passed a resolution prohibiting the maintaining of bootblack stands upon the streets of the city. Pappas and Bockos, the owners of the stand that stood near Smith's drug store petitioned the Council for the special privilege of running their little 16-cent business at the old stand. They set out in their communication that they recently, on March 25, purchased the stand from one C. S. Seals for $250. They further stated that they understood the consideration paid included with the stand the right to maintain the same where it stood. The action of the Council, they said, in throwing them off the street, placed a hardship upon them that they could ill afford to bear.

Accompanying the petition was a letter from the Smith Drug company saying that the owners of the stand were poor, hard-working and industrious men, that it would be a hardship upon them to be compelled to give up their business, and recommended that the privilege be granted. The letter was conveyed in and indeed by M. H. Walker as the owner of the building occupied by the drug firm. Inquiry into the motives behind the indorsements of the poor bootblacks' petition brought out the statements that they pay $25 a month to the indorsers to occupy a public street.

The members of the committee had been inclined to grant the petition until they learned the true state of affairs as given. They opened their eyes when they had heard about the rental paid, and for that reason took unfavorable action upon the petition.

The American farmer is the greatest man in the world to-day because he is master of the soil; he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as his products are increasing in magnitude. Our recent combines of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. For instance, the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $500,000,000 for their products in a single year. The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny. Providing your blood is in good order, it only needs a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood—by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shiver up the red blood corpuscles. As an alternative extract, made only of herbs and roots it goes about its work in nature's way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States. More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before—that is a true test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity.

NO CURE, NO PAY!

If it were not for the prejudice due to the great number of fakes in the land I would not be able to handle the business that would come to me. The "Free Belt" fraud and the "Free Drug" scheme, which are not free at all, have made every one skeptical, but I know that I have a good thing, and I'll hammer away until you know it.

I want to talk to men who have pain and aches, who feel run down physically, who realize that the old "fire" and energy which was so evident in youth is absent now; men who can't stand the amount of exertion they could years ago. I want you—if that means you—to come to me, and if I say that I can cure you I don't ask you to pay me until I do so. That is fair, surely. You take no chances, as I know what I can do, and I'll run the risk.

I have a cure in every town. Tell me where you live and I will give you the name of a man I've cured. Tell me your name and I will tell you honestly whether I can cure you or not. If I can't cure you I don't want your money. I have been in this business 22 years, and I am the biggest man in it today by long odds, and I am growing yet, because I give every man all he pays for.
